Treatment/Diagnostic modalities used (i.e. Diversified, SOT, Activator, etc.):

We use Diversified, Activator, Logan Basic, and Thompson techniques. Our doctors also are certified in acupuncture and kinesiotaping.

Position(s) available: Associate Doctor of ChiropracticDate Available: August 1, 2010

Duties to include:

The associate would be responsible for recruiting their own patients, but we also have new patients that we would give to the associate to cultivate. In addition to working as a doctor of chiropractic, we would like for someone to really fit in well and contribute to our team environment. Such duties would include networking in the community, finding marketing opportunities with local practitioners and businesses, participating in professional development, helping maintain the cleanliness of office, mentoring new hires, setting a good example for other employees, writing weekly education articles/tips, maintaining our social media presence (i.e., Facebook). We would prefer someone full-time, but are open to part-time as well.

Please include any other relevant information about your practice, philosophy or geographic area that would be helpful or informative for students:

We are a 6-year old chiropractic office in the West University/Greenway Plaza area. Our patients are a combination of cash and major medical (health insurance) patients who come in for a variety of different reasons. Dr. Long and Dr. Yeager are both certified in acupuncture and kinesiotaping, and Dr. Long has additional expertise in pediatrics, pregnancy, and nutrition. Therefore, we are looking for an associate who has some of these same interests, but one who can also augment our existing services. Additional post-graduate certification or special language skills are a plus as would experience with sports chiropractic and exercise rehabilitation. We would prefer a female chiropractor licensed in Texas who has previous employment experience, although it does not necessarily have to be chiropractic (for instance, if you worked for a few years before going into chiropractic school). Our clinic is frequently asked to participate in health fairs and community health talks; hence, a doctor who is not afraid of public speaking is a must. West U Wellness is a member of various networking groups, and we recognize that networking is the #1 way to grow the type of clientele that we service. We would like to find a doctor who is good at networking, has a base of friends and colleagues to solicit referrals, and does not mind participating in multiple networking opportunities per week. Please feel free to contact me directly prior to the Job Fair for more information or if you are unable to make it at this interview time.

Treatment/Diagnostic modalities used (i.e. Diversified, SOT, Activator, etc.):

Diversified, motion palpation, myofascial release and modalities including ultrasound, EMS, tractioning and rehab exercises

Nutritional supplements, detox and wellness programs

Position(s) available: Doctor to lease space in established practice; you will have use of all equipment and will be trained

Date Available: 7/7/10

Duties to include:

Examine, diagnose and treat patients. Grow your own successful practice while gaining experience as an independent contractor. This is not a salary/employee position so you must be a self starter with a strong work ethic. You will be mentored by a doctor with 15 years experience in PI, health insurance, billing/collections, cash and nutrition/wellness.

Please include any other relevant information about your practice, philosophy or geographic area that would be helpful or informative for students:

My practice has been established for 15 years in central, east Austin about 5 minutes from the capitol, University of Texas and downtown. This is a unique opportunity for a doctor who is open to a culturally diversified area. A new residential neighborhood and Dell Children's Hospital is 3 minutes away. Spanish is a plus. With knowledge, wisdom and a heart to help people, you will succeed!
